There are many variables that go into a puppy growing up to be strong and healthy, both genetics and environment. Nurture has as much or more to do with your puppy being healthy as nature does.

Kyle Warren, owner/breeder/trainer of Kyle Warren Dogs and Paint River Llewellins not only has behavioral, nutritional and medical expertise but a quality education in genetics too.

To serve as an example, people largely believe hip dysplasia is mostly genetic. Wrong— hip dysplasia is only 10% to 30% genetic at a maximum, depending upon the breed! Type/quantity of diet and type/quantity of exercise are two areas that the owner can strongly influence the outcome in hip joint health for better or worse. This is just one significant example of the importance in the owner's role for their dog's development.

Paint River Llewellins wants both you and your new puppy to thrive as a team both in the home and in the pursuit of upland game birds. In order for that to happen we need to give your puppy the best possible start we can to life throughout its development— physically, mentally, emotionally and physiologically. Please follow these guidelines and have the confidence that you have done everything you can to grow your pup into a sound healthy adult Llewelin Setter.
